

PRESIDENT WILSON READY TO FIGHT TO A FINISH FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

RECEIVED BY LARGE AUDIENCE IN BOSTON'S BIGGEST AUDITORIUM

Defies Those Who Distrust the Proposed Concert of Governments Based on American Ideals for Which We Fought — Pictures Work Accomplished During His Stay in Europe — Cheered by Thousands.

(By The Associated Press) BOSTON, Feb. 24.—President Wilson will fight as he has fought abroad for a league of nations. Returning from France, he had been on American soil not more than three hours today before he threw down the gauntlet to those who distrust the proposed concert of governments based, he said, on the American ideals which had won the war for justice and humanity.

And America confining to her own territories her conception and purpose to make men free, he said, would have to keep her honor "for those narrow, selfish, provincial purposes which seem so dear to some minds that have no sweep beyond their nearest horizon."

Before a responsive audience that filled the biggest auditorium in the city the president pictured the "old world fighting with stubborn desperation" and expecting in the end nothing better for the peoples than they had known for centuries.

Must Unite Forces of Civilized World. He pictured the American nation entering the lists with a new purpose—the freedom of mankind. The old world had caught the vision and any treaty of peace drawn otherwise than in the new spirit would be nothing more, he asserted than a "modern scrap of paper" and the present peace, unless guaranteed by the united forces of the civilized world, could not stand a generation. Bending over the speaker's table, his face set in tense lines and his right hand clenched, the president exclaimed "any man who thinks that America will take part in giving the world any such rebuff and disappointment as that does not know America. I invite him to test the sentiment of the nation."

Interrupted by applause the president halted and then evoked the greatest demonstration of the afternoon when he added that he would accept no sweeter challenge than the issue of the American purpose in the war.

"I have fighting blood in me" he said with apparent feeling, "and it is sometimes a delight to let it have scope, but if it is a challenge on this occasion it will be indulgence."

President Given Rousing Welcome. New England gave the president a rousing welcome. This city probably never has seen a greater crowd than gathered at every point of vantage along the route from Commonwealth pier, thru the downtown districts and to the Copley Plaza Hotel where a stop was made for luncheon.

At every turn, the president was cheered. The national army, the navy, the state guard and the city police formed a guard of honor for the entire distance of drive. So effective were the arrangements that not an unpleasant incident occurred.

President Wilson was accompanied in the parade and later to Mechanics Hall where he spoke before 8,000 persons, by Mrs. Wilson. He appeared physically fit for what he described as the approaching "strenuous attempt to transact business for a little while in America."

So occupied was Mr. Wilson with the program prepared for him that all official business brought to his attention was deferred until he was aboard the special train for Washington.

The President's Speech

MECHANICS HALL, Boston, BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The text of President Wilson's address is as follows:

"Governor Collidge, Mr. Mayor, Fellow Citizens: I wonder if you are half as glad to see me as I am to see you. It warms my heart to see a great body of my fellow citizens again because in some respects during the recent months I have been very lonely indeed, without your comradeship and counsel and I tried at every step of the work which fell to me to recall what I was sure would be your counsel with regard to the great matters which were under consideration.

I do not want you to think that I have not been appreciative of the extraordinary generous reception which was given to me on the other side in saying that it makes me very happy to get home again. I do not mean to say that I was not very deeply touched by the cries that came from the great crowds on the other side. But I want to say to you in all honesty that I felt them to be a call of greeting to you rather than to me.

Pleased With Trip. I did not feel that the greeting was personal. I had in my heart the overgrowing pride of being your representative and of receiving the plaudits of men everywhere who felt that your hearts beat with theirs in the cause of liberty. There was no mistaking the tone in the voices of those great crowds. It was not a tone of mere greeting. It was not a tone of mere generous welcome; it was the calling of comrade to comrade, the cries that come from men who say "we have waited for this day when the friends of liberty should come across the sea and shake hands with us, to see that a new world was constructed upon a new basis and foundation of justice and right."

"I can't tell you the inspiration that came out of those voices simply from the crowds. And the proudest thing I have to report to you is that this great country of ours is trusted through the world.

"I have not come to report the proceedings or the results of the conference; that would be premature. I can say that I have received very happy impressions from this conference; the impression that while there are many differences of judgment, while there are the same divergences of object, there is nevertheless a common spirit and a common realization of the necessity of setting up new standards of right in the world.

Not Masters of People. Because the men who are in conference in Paris realize as keenly as any American can realize that they are not the masters of their people; that they are the servants of their people and that the spirit of their people has awakened to a new purpose and a new conception of their power to realize that purpose, and that no man dare go home from that conference and report anything less noble than was expected of it.

The conference seems to you to go slowly; from day to day in Paris it seems to go slowly; but I wonder if you realize the complexity of the task which it has undertaken. It seems as if the settlements of this war affect, and affect directly, every great, and I sometimes think every small nation in the world, and not one decision can prudently be made which is not properly linked in with the great series of other decisions which must accompany it. And it must be reckoned in with the final result of the real quality and character of that result is to be properly judged.

What we are doing is to hear the whole case; hear it from the mouths of the men most interested; hear it from those who are officially commissioned to state it; hear the rival claims, hear the claims that affect new nationalities, that affect new areas of the world, that affect new commercial and economic connections that have been established by the great world war thru which we have gone. And I have been struck by the moderation of those who have represented national claims. I can testify that I have nowhere seen the gleam of passion. I have seen earnestness. I have seen tears come to the eyes of men who plead for down-trodden people whom they were privileged to speak for; but they were not the tears of anguish; they were the tears of ardent hope.

For Humanity's Sake. "And I don't see how any man can fail to have been subduced by these pleas, subduced to this feeling, that he was not there to assert an individual judgment of his own, but to try to assist the cause of humanity."

And in the midst of it all every interest seeks our first of all, when it reaches Paris, the representatives of the United States. Why? Because, and I think I am stating the most wonderful fact in history—because there is no nation in Europe that suspects the motives of the United States.

Was there ever so wonderful a thing seen before? Was there ever any fact that so bound the nation that had won that esteem forever to deserve it?

Men Not Disesteemed. I would not have you understand that the great men who represent the other nations there in conference are disesteemed by those who know them. Quite the contrary. But you understand that the nations of Europe have again and again clashed with one another in competitive interest. It is impossible for men to forget those sharp issues that were drawn between them in times past. It is impossible for men to believe that all ambitions have all of a sudden been forgone. They remember territory that was coveted; they remember rights that it was attempted to extort; they remember political ambitions which it was attempted to realize, while they believe that men have come into a different temper, and they do not resort to one another for a dispassionate view on the matters in controversy. They resort to that nation which has won the enviable distinction of being regarded as the friend of mankind.

Whenever it is desired to send a small force of soldiers to occupy a piece of territory where it is thought nobody else will be welcome, they ask for American soldiers. And where other soldiers would be looked upon with suspicion and perhaps met with resistance, the American soldier is welcomed with acclaim.

Grounds for Pride. I have had so many grounds for pride on the other side of the water that I am very thankful that they are not grounds for personal pride. I'd be the most stuck-up man in the world. And it has been an infinite pleasure to me to see those gallant soldiers of ours, of whom the constitution of the United States made me the proud commander. You may be proud of the 26th division, but I commanded the 26th division and see what they did under my direction! And everybody praises the American soldier with the feeling that in praising him he is subtracting from the credit of no one else.

I have been searching for the fundamental fact that converted Europe to believe in us. Before this war Europe did not believe in us as she does now. She did not believe in us thruout the first three years of the war. She seems really to have believed that we were holding off because we could make more by staying out than by going in.

And all of a sudden, in a short eighteen months, the whole verdict is reversed. There can be but one explanation for it. They saw what we did—that without making a single claim we put all our men and all our means at the disposal of those who were fighting for their homes, in the first instance, but for a cause the cause of human rights and justice, and that we went in, not to support their national claims, but to support the great cause which they held in common.

And when they saw that America not only held ideals, but acted on them, they were converted to America and became firm partisans of those ideals.

Met Group of Scholars. I met a group of scholars when I was in Paris—some gentlemen from one of the Greek universities who had come to see me and in whose presence or rather in the presence of those traditions of learning, I felt very young indeed. I told them that I had one of the delightful revenges that sometimes comes to a man. All my life I had heard men speak with a sort of condemnation of idealists and idealists, and particularly those separated, encloistered persons whom they chose to term academic who were in the habit of uttering ideals in the free atmosphere when they clash with nobody in particular.

And I said I have had this sweet revenge. Speaking with perfect frankness in the name of the people of the United States I have uttered as the objects of this war, ideals, and nothing but ideals and the war has been won by that inspiration. Men were fighting with tense muscles and lowered heads until they came to realize those things, feeling they were fighting for their lives and their country, and when these accents of what it was all about reached them from America they lifted their heads, they raised their eyes to Heaven, when they saw men in khaki coming across the sea in the spirit of crusaders, and they found that these were strange men, reckless of danger not only, but reckless because they seemed to see something that made that danger worth while. Men have testified to me in Europe that our men were possessed by something that they could only call a religious fervor. They were not like any of the other soldiers. They had a vision, they had a dream and they were fighting in the dream, and fighting in the dream they turned the whole tide of battles it never came back.

U. S. Soldiers Best. One of our American humorists, meeting the criticism that American soldiers were not trained long enough:

"It takes only half as long to train an American soldier as any other because you only have to train him one way, and he did only go one way, and he never came back until he could do it when he pleased."

And now do you realize that this confidence we have established thruout the world imposes a burden upon us—if you choose to call it a burden. Any man who resists the present tides that run in the world will find himself thrown upon a shore so high and barren that it will seem as if he had been separated from his human kind forever.

The Europe that I left the other day was full of something that I had never felt fill its heart so full before. It was full of hope. The Europe of the second year of the war, the Europe of the third year of the war, was sinking to a sort of stubborn desperation. They did not see any great thing to be achieved even when the war should be won. They hoped there would be some salvage. They hoped that they could clear their territories of invading armies; they hoped they could set up their homes and start their industries afresh. But they thought it would simply be the resumption of the old life that Europe had led—led in anxiety, led in constant suspicious watchfulness. They never

Francis Tells Of Bolshevik Rule In Russia

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Ambassador Francis home for Russia for the first time in two years had several conferences with President Wilson while coming over on the George Washington and made several recommendations for action on the part of the Allied and American governments for meeting the Bolshevik menace and restoring Russia to the family of nations. Mr. Francis probably will disclose them before one of the congressional committees. He probably will remain in Washington some time advising the state department and congress on the situation as he saw it on leaving.

"A reign of terror instituted by the Bolsheviks, with the purpose of maintaining themselves in power, is prevailing in central and northern Russia," said the ambassador. "The outrages they have committed are incredible. I think it impossible to restore peace to Europe with chaos prevailing in Russia. In fact with Germany practically uninvolved industrially, I am persuaded that if a peace is negotiated with Bolshevik rule continuing in Russia, Germany in twenty years or a decade will be stronger than she was at the beginning of the war. She is familiar with the Russian character and for a generation has been studying it to influence it. If this turns out, Germany instead of having been defeated will have gained a victory."

GET BUSINESS GOING AND KEEP IT GOING

Declares Secretary of Labor Wilson in Appeal to the Country—Every Business Man Must Work in Unity.

Washington, Feb. 24.—In an appeal to the country "to get business going and keep it going," Secretary of Labor Wilson issued a signed statement tonight declaring that labor organizations were in a better position to resist reductions in wages than they have been before and asserting that it would be short sighted for any business man to run the chance of destroying his industry for the opportunity of a brief period of lower wages and cheaper material.

Demobilization of the military forces and return to a normal industrial basis would be easy, Mr. Wilson said, if every business man were filled with the idea that he should get his establishment running on as large and effective basis as it was prior to the war, but he added:

"There are many employers who feel that it is not wise to do that from a financial standpoint, that the war cost of labor is out of the question and that the thing to do is to wait until the prices of material and labor go down. My vision of the situation is that there will be not more than four to six months at the most of interim between the signing of the armistice and our getting into the regular post-war swing."

"If we have any large amount of unemployment, however, we will have a period of industrial unrest and there is no one who can tell where the social upheaval would land us whether we would have a repetition of the French revolution or the Russian Bolshevik revolution or whether good or evil will come out of the struggle."

HOPE TO STOP LIQUOR TRAFFIC

MONROE, Mich., Feb. 24.—A supplementary injunction designed to stop the carrying of liquor into Michigan on the Detroit, Monroe and Toledo Short Line (interurban) was granted by Circuit Judge Jesse Root here this afternoon at the request of Attorney General Alex Groesbeck of Michigan.

In his application for the writ, the attorney general recited that during the last few days more than 1,000 quarts of liquor daily have been carried into the state on the interurban line.

Additional search warrants empowering members of the state constabulary and inspectors of the state food and drug department to examine automobiles and other vehicles traveling between Toledo and Michigan points were issued in Judge Root's court this morning. Meanwhile federal and state officers, realizing that the border has served to drive the smugglers to other points are turning their attention to the routes of travel leading from Wisconsin and Illinois into Michigan. Several arrests already have been made at Grand Rapids and Grand Haven of persons charged with attempting to smuggle liquor from Chicago and Milwaukee.

ELIMINATE CLAUSES

Washington, Feb. 24.—Conferees on the oil leasing bill, eliminated from the measure today provisions extending the bill to include both the leasing and sale of Alaskan coal land. The measure will be reported back to both houses without delay in the hope of securing final enactment at this session.

ALL NEW YORK STRIKERS SENT BACK TO WORK

Representatives Selected by Each Side To Adjust Matter

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—All workmen on strike in the New York building trade dispute and all other sympathetic strikers were ordered back to work tonight under an agreement reached at a conference here between representatives of the building trades association and the union and the secretaries of war and labor.

It was agreed that all matters in dispute would be placed before a conference committee composed of three men selected by the employers and three by the workmen. All matters upon which the committee failed to agree after three days would be submitted to Judge Henry P. Dugros of New York City whose decision would be made within two weeks and would be final.

An advance in wages was the only question involved and the employers were said to have expressed a willingness to concede an increase. The men demanded an advance of one dollar to $6.50 a day.

Approximately 125,000 men were involved in the strike which threatened to become nation-wide. It was estimated that 90 per cent of government construction would have been stopped if the strike had spread.

Metal Workers in Session.

Portland, Feb. 24.—The Pacific Coast Metal Trades district council in session here since last Monday, adjourned tonight, after adopting a resolution placing before the various local unions in its jurisdiction for immediate referendum vote a proposal for a coast wide strike to begin April 1, upon expiration of the present Macy agreement in the ship yards.

The information regarding the action taken was given unofficially but from a competent source. No official statement was issued concerning it. The press committee announced that it was preparing a statement. Ship yard workers now on strike in any of the cities represented in the conference it was pointed out tonight cannot participate in the proposed referendum vote on a coast-wide strike except by returning to their places at the ship yards.

At present they stand in the position of contract breakers under the Macy agreement. Both the Seattle and Tacoma, Washington, ship yards are tied up by strikers.

Shoe Workers Strike.

New York, Feb. 24.—A strike of the employees in 85 shoe factories in New York City having a combined daily output of 50,000 pairs of shoes, began today, according to Raymond P. Morse, chairman of the labor board of shoe manufacturers. Fifteen thousand employees are affected by the strike, Mr. Morse said, although 4,000 belong to the Union which are demanding a forty per cent increase in wages.

SUB-COMMITTEE COMPLETES WORK

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The sub-committee dealing with the responsibility of authors of the war has completed its work. Its report has not been made public at its meetings and the hearings it gave were attended by nearly all the members of the full committee. There seems no doubt that the report will receive formal approval and be laid before the supreme council.

It is believed that the sub-committee has made findings only as to the responsibility of the authors of the war and not as regards technical violations of international law by individuals. Other sub-committees dealing with various phases of responsibility for the war have not reached the point of reporting their findings.

BILL FOR CEMETERY IN FRANCE PASSED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A bill by Senator Spencer of Missouri authorizing the secretary of war to acquire in France for the burial of Americans who lost their lives in the war, was passed today by the senate and sent to the house. The French government already has offered to provide the site which will be known as "The American Field of Honor."

Senator Spencer said enactment of the measure would not interfere with the plans and desires of relatives of fallen soldiers to bring the bodies home for burial.

MINE WORKERS MAY STRIKE

Hazletown, Pa., Feb. 24.—Notice was received today at the district headquarters of the United Mine Workers in this city from Frank J. Hayes, international president, that he has called a meeting of the policy committee of the union in Indianapolis on March 18, to take action on the matter of wages, unemployment and other issues growing out of the reconstruction period. The committee will be composed of representatives from every district.

President Wilson Will Spend Entire Day At His Desk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Wilson will resume his official routine tomorrow immediately after his arrival in the capital and will spend the entire day at his desk, according to present plans.

A cabinet meeting in the afternoon is expected to be almost the only engagement of the president during his first day at work since his return to this country. Numerous requests for engagements have been made and the list of persons desiring to see him will be submitted to Mr. Wilson for him to select those whose business he deems of sufficient importance to claim part of the busy week available to him before he sails again for Paris.

The president's most important conference, that with members of the senate and house foreign affairs committees for discussion of the constitution of the proposed league of nations will be held Wednesday night. The president and Mrs. Wilson will find the spring cleaning at the white house finished.

Every part of the house that needed attention has received it at the hands of a small army of workmen. They return also to a city decorated in gala fashion, in preparation for the parade of the District of Columbia soldiers on Thursday. The president will review the parade from a stand in front of the white house. Late tonight the executive offices had received no word of the signing of the revenue bill or transaction of other business by the president since landing from the George Washington. It was thought he might sign the revenue bill on the train tonight.

MANY BAVARIAN ARISTOCRATS ARRESTED

BERLIN, Sunday, Feb. 23.—(By The Associated Press)—A large number of the members of the Bavarian aristocracy have been arrested on suspicion of having been connected with Count Arco Valley, who killed Premier Eisner, according to a dispatch from Munich. The Socialist government continues to search the residences of members of the former royal house and of the nobility.

According to unconfirmed reports a list of conspirators was discovered in the home of Count Arco Valley; a former Bavarian prince is said to have been among those arrested as a result.

The spot where Eisner was killed is banked with flowers and wreaths and a large portrait of the dead premier has been set up there.

Enormous crowds thronged there yesterday to pay him silent homage.

The Communists in Munich, dispatches say, are dissatisfied with the decision of the social commission to restore unity among the Socialist parties and have broken off relations with the Socialist parties.

The Communists it is added plan to establish a dictatorship for the proletariat as a Soviet Republic. The Socialists have discontinued the wholesale distribution of arms to organized workmen, discovering that extreme radical elements and irresponsible individuals were obtaining the weapons.

COMMISSION ON REPARATIONS MEET

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The peace conference commission on reparations at its meeting today decided to expedite the work of first and second sub-committees which are charged respectively with questions of the valuation of damages and a study of means of payment and the financial capacity of the enemy countries. A third sub-committee was appointed to study measures of control and guarantees. William M. Hughes, Australian premier, was elected president and B. M. Baruch of the United States, vice president of the committee. The commission also welcomed its delegates of Portugal—Senhores Moniz, Friere and Daudard.

DOZEN SENATE COMMITTEES BUSY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Nearly a dozen senate committees were in session today putting finishing touches to legislation which it is hoped to get thru before adjournment of congress next week. Democrats and Republicans are said to agree that many important measures on the calendar must fall and that an extra session cannot be avoided.

Director General Hines conferred with the appropriations committees of both houses urging action on the bill providing $750,000,000 additional for the railroad administration's revolving fund. Mr. Hines said failure of the bill would be disastrous not only to the railroads, but to the next Liberty Loan campaign and to business generally. During discussion of the legislation situation in the senate finance committee it was said that Republican leaders were disposed to co-operate in enacting the bond bill, the measure validating the formal war contracts and the railroad bond bill. Passage of the army and navy appropriation bills it was stated, seemed improbable.

LEWIS DEFENDS CONSTITUTION OF NATION'S LEAGUE

Takes Issue To Recent Criticisms of Colleagues.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The first address in the senate in defense of the proposed constitution of the League of Nations was delivered today by Senator Lewis of Illinois, Democratic whip, who took issue with the recent criticisms made by Senators Borah of Idaho, Republican and Reed of Missouri, Democrat.

Speaking for nearly two hours Senator Lewis denied contentions of opponents of the league that it would abrogate the Monroe doctrine, that it was a departure from the principles of Washington and Jefferson, that it would dictate world affairs and that America would be outvoted by the United Kingdom. An immense overflow audience listened intently to the speech and vigorously applauded when the Illinois senator concluded.

Senator Lewis' address is to be followed soon by many other discussions of the league. Senator Owen of Oklahoma, Democrat, and Cummins of Iowa, Republican, are expected to continue the debate. The congress adjourns one week from tomorrow. Senator Sherman of Illinois, Republican, announced today that he would make an address Monday.

National Referendum.

In the house today, Representative Lundeen of Minnesota, Republican introduced a resolution proposing a national referendum on the league to be called by the secretary of state within thirty days after its formal submission to the senate. The proposal was an expression of popular opinion on the league was referred to by Senator Lewis in concluding his remarks.

"It will be before the American people," the Illinois senator said. "The people will pass on this document in the form of a treaty thru their senators and their representatives. But it also will have the added advantage in that its distinguished champion will go to his countrymen with the analysis in detail the arguments of his undertaking, as they have everything else with which he has gone to them. Yes, the people will decide."

Senator Reed spoke briefly when Senator Lewis concluded. He said that if the Illinois member's argument was correct, the league would not have power to limit American armament and added:

Senator Lewis digressed greatly from his prepared address. He analyzed in detail the arguments of Senators Borah and Reed and also declared that in May, 1915, Republican Leader Lodge had spoken in support of the league plan.

Senator Lewis Replies.

Replying to the argument that the league would contravene the Monroe Doctrine, Senator Lewis declared that by the very plan of the society world would guarantee that doctrine. He also declared there was no ground for the charge that kings and emperors would control the league, for assuming that the Central and South American Republics will be members on equality with British colonies, the American Republics could out-vote the European nations.

"It must be plain," said Mr. Lewis, "that senators have read this document in a way that greatly misled them."

Senator Lewis said that he could not conceive of a man who assumed that the principal Latin-American countries would not have equal representation with Great Britain's colonies and asserted that the executive council instead of the league itself would control its policies.

The Illinois senator also declared nations could submit to the league only questions which they considered were matters for its jurisdiction. When Senator Lewis concluded the applause was so insistent that Vice-President Marshall issued a sharp warning to spectators in the galleries declaring they were acting like Bolsheviks in violating the rules against applause and that he would clear the galleries at the next demonstration.

Mr. Platt in his communication giving figures for the construction of a reservoir at the pumping station, has overlooked the fact that the original plans have been materially changed. The figures Mr. Platt quoted are for a reservoir with a capacity of 180,000,000 gallons of water while the plans which engineers have drawn for the proposed reservoir provide a capacity of 420,000,000.

Some of the breweries and distilleries in preparation for prohibition days are already turning their attention to other industrial lines. One brewery has been changed to a packing plant. Distilleries are engaged in the manufacture of sugar. But what is to become of the liquor cure institutions? These homes for men forget their appetite for booze will be forced out of business or at least must change their line to some other form of activity.

The "no beer no work" slogan which has been adopted by some labor unions in the east does not represent the best influence in organized labor. Any such movement should have been started before the prohibition amendment was ratified. Those behind this movement were well aware of the discussion going on and the prospect of favorable action. Now they cannot come in and override the will of the majority by threat. It is true that the "no beer no work" contingent does not represent labor properly for if it did the prohibition amendment would never have been adopted. The majority of the labor influence must have been in favor of a dry United States.

Congressman Rodgers has bitterly assailed Chairman Hayes of the National Republican committee for assisting Representative Gillett of Massachusetts against Representative Mann of Illinois as speaker of the house. Setting aside all other questions Mr. Hayes certainly has done a risky thing in taking part in this contest. The partiality shown will be very likely to turn up to his disadvantage in the further handling of national committee affairs. If, as has been suggested in some quarters, the movement for Mr. Gillett is the result of a desire on the part of the east to adopt a tariff law especially favorable to the east, the movement is ill-fated and unfair to western Republicans.

The formation of an international committee of bankers to protect holders of Mexican securities will certainly serve to stabilize and stimulate business in that country. One of the greatest causes of uncertainty in the past several years has been because of the lack of confidence on the part of investors. Those who had money there in many instances suffered losses and had a fine chance of having their entire investments wiped out. Now the committee of bankers representing the U. S., England and France, has proposed a plan which will protect investments and a marked improvement in Mexican business conditions may reasonably be expected.

THE PRESIDENT RETURNS

A senator in Washington wrote to constituents the other day that "Quite a stir was caused in Washington yesterday by the announcement that President Wilson's party was coming to spend a few days." That is a cheap bit of attempt at ridicule. The president may have made a great mistake in going to Europe but there has been nothing undignified in his conduct. Perhaps by his return at this time the country may have a more accurate knowledge of the peace league question and thus come to an understanding of what it may mean for America. Regardless of any party lines, there is no question but that the people will support the peace league plan if they can find that joining in this league there is some assurance for the maintenance of the world peace, and furthermore, that America is not violating traditions.

THOMPSON FOR COMMISSIONER

When the Republicans of the county nominated M. Clarence Thompson for commissioner they chose a young man who has always had the confidence and esteem of those who know him. He has spent all of his life in the city is familiar with present day business methods and will if elected give his best thought to the duties of the office. As a farmer Mr. Thompson knows about good roads questions and various other matters which especially interest the residents of the rural communities. He believes in both economy and in progress and the people will make no mistake in electing him to board membership.

The Irish people of this country are generous as well as patriotic. They gave proof at their meeting in Philadelphia in support of a movement to bring freedom to Ireland, when $1,250,000 was quickly pledged to the cause. The proposition has been to raise $1,000,000 for the fund in six months' time but the whole sum and 25 per cent more came within a few minutes. There is some justice in the demand of the convention that the problem of the relationship between England and Ireland is one which has its place for consideration at the peace conference.

In the Bloomington municipal election today there is a distinct labor ticket in the field, headed by the well known John C. Lennon as a candidate for mayor. Bloomington is under the commission form of government and the five men on the labor ticket have come out with a very definite program of what they would hope to accomplish if elected to office. On the question of public utilities these candidates declare in favor of municipal ownership and believe that the city's plant should be enlarged to furnish light and power to people of the city at cost. One of the most radical principles suggested is the abolition of all city work under contract and the adoption of day work on the 8-hour basis.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

The Kings.
"We kings must stick together," said Bill, upon a time, "thru every kind of weather, thru every brand of crime. By heaven 'tis appointed that all the crowned galoats, with rancid oil anointed, should travel in cahoots. To all kings I am brother, we'll soon be going lame, if we don't back each other and play each other's game." Then many kings were reigning some fourteen hours a day, and all of them were straining to make the business pay. I saw them blithely kingling, some five brief years ago; and were dancing, singing and romping to and fro. Each had his robe of ermine each was a gaudy cuss, the Austrian, the German, the Bulgar and the Russ. I have no space to mention all kings were frolicked then, each with a high intention to boss his fellowmen. And now the kings are scattered, and some of them are dead, the snaps they had are shattered, their swords with rust are red. They did not stick together, they made some ghastly breaks; each tanned his private leather, each killed his private snakes. And now the kings appointed with mica axle grease, find all the world disjointed, and can't enjoy our peace.

MATRIMONIAL

James Graves.
The marriage of Delos N. James and Miss Ruth M. Graves was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Graves, on Webster avenue. The ceremony was said by Rev. W. E. Collins, pastor of the Congregational church, with only immediate relatives present. The rooms of the Graves home were prettily decorated for the occasion but simplicity marked the wedding arrangements throughout. The bride was attired in a brown traveling suit and wore a white velvet hat. Miss Esther James of Meredosia, sister of the groom, was the only attendant.

Mrs. James is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Graves, whose home has been two miles west of Jacksonville until a few months since, when they became residents of Jacksonville. She has been a student at Illinois Woman's college and is a young woman of such graces that she has a wide circle of friendships.

Mr. James is the son of Deputy Treasurer and Mrs. C. H. James, formerly of Meredosia and now just becoming residents of Jacksonville. The young man was a student at Illinois college this year and attached to the S. A. T. C. unit. In college he gave evidence of unusual strength and was very popular among his fellows. The marriage unites two of the well known families of the county.

For a short time Mr. and Mrs. James are at the Graves home on Webster avenue and after a wedding journey will reside in Meredosia, where the groom has been in partnership with his father in a real estate business and in the operation of a garage.

Lieut. Vincent Ebemeyer from Camp McArthur, Texas, has been the city visiting the Misses Ruth and Helen Manes, enroute to his home in Lafayette, Indiana.

PAVEMENT HEARINGS
WERE HELD MONDAY

Improvement Board Adopted Resolutions for Work on East State, East and West College Avenue.

Two continued public hearings were held yesterday by the board of local improvement and resolutions adopted for the pavement of East State street from the railroad to Johnson street, and West College avenue from the city limits east to Hardin avenue. The hearing on East State street was held at 11 o'clock. The property owners present for the hearing included the Misses Boyce, S. H. Larimore, William Newman, M. E. Riley, J. H. Begnal and W. H. Brown.

Mr. Larimore asked a number of questions about the manner of approaching private driveways and referred to the proposed changes in street corners, asking if they were assessed against all property owners or those immediately abutting. Mr. Riley and Mr. Begnal, both of whom are farmers living in the county, said that they were opposed to paving at this time as they thought the materials would be high. Mayor Rodgers said that the figure on asphalt was just the same as it had been two years ago.

William Newman asked about whether the street car company was to be required to straighten the curbline of the street and was assured this work would be done at the company expense. He said he and Mrs. Newman had a large frontage but as he had served as a city alderman and commissioner he could not well oppose the work.

There was some very general conversation on the improvement proposed but no one seemed very seriously opposed. Commissioner Martin made a motion that the resolution be adopted, with a second by Mr. White, and the motion carried unanimously.

Afternoon Session.

At the hearing on College avenue the meeting of the improvement board was held in the afternoon with a large company of property owners present. Dr. C. H. Rammekamp, speaking for Illinois College, made a further brief statement as to the reason for objecting to the pavement at this time and another speaker was H. B. Jaeger of East College avenue. Several others spoke briefly, all of them expressing the view that it was not fair to property owners to proceed with the work at a time like the present when the expense would be much larger than would be normally true.

Commissioner White made a statement as to the need for public improvements and the better conditions which always come because of such work. In his observation paying always increased property value and people are nearly always satisfied with paving after the work has been done. He made a motion to adopt the resolution with a second by Commissioner Widmayer.

When the roll was called Commissioners White, Widmayer and Mayor Rodgers voted for the resolution. Commissioner Martin was absent. Commissioner Vasconcellos voted no after he had talked with Dr. Rammekamp and others about the possibility of repaving the street as they had suggested at an earlier meeting. There were a few sharp exchanges and the proceedings will now pass to the county court. Property owners may possibly make a showing there which will result in delaying the improvement.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

Yields to Old-Fashioned Remedy

Recent research tells us that the Spanish influenza germ and the La Grippe germ are much alike.

The sneezing, the racking cough and the inflammation in chest and throat of Spanish Influenza are swiftly relieved by the old-fashioned cold remedy of goose-grease and turpentine.

Science has improved this splendid old remedy by adding to it Menthol, Wintergreen and other healing oils, whose fumes, inhaled, bring relief in twenty minutes.

This new old remedy is MENTHO-EZE.

As Spanish influenza is still spreading, there should surely be a jar of MENTHO-EZE ready at hand in your home—preparedness pays.

Vigor

SUCCESS IS ACHIEVED

by vigorous men and women.

When one is lacking in strength and endurance, when good health is wanting, when physical power is at low ebb, it is impossible to accomplish one's work.

One of the causes of ill health and low vitality is the improper functioning of the kidneys. Trouble results when they fail to eliminate waste and poisonous matter from the system, and rheumatic pains, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles, and other symptoms quickly follow.

Foley Kidney Pills

banish effects of kidney and bladder trouble by removing the cause. They are healing and curative. They tone up and strengthen the weakened or decaying organs.

H. D. Castleberry, Marine Engineer, Port Vincent, La., writes: "I consider Foley Kidney Pills the greatest remedy for kidney and bladder trouble I ever used. I recommend them to all who suffer with kidney and bladder trouble."

CHAS. DE SILVA TALKS

ABOUT HIS PLATFORM

As candidate for alderman of the Second ward, I stand for the people as a whole, regardless of creed, nationality or color. Now let us get together and "bury the hatchet" and boost for Jacksonville first, last and always.

We find in some instances where the candidate ridicules his opponent because he is for or against the "no-salary" platform.

There are good features in this "no-salary" platform as well as bad ones. I am not for the "no-salary" platform, if it will have a tendency to lower the wages of the city employees. But if two hundred public-spirited citizens can be found, who will donate, for instance, five hundred dollars apiece, making a total of a hundred thousand dollars, to raise the indebtedness of the city, then I am willing to show my public-spirit by donating my services. Otherwise I am not.

There still remains another way in which the indebtedness of the city may be raised. If we will get together for health and happiness in our city with the same spirit with which Jacksonville went over the top in the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., U. W. W., and Liberty Loan drives, I feel that the indebtedness of the city can soon be raised.

Whether I am elected or not the Jacksonville Patriotic drum corp is always ready to help make the drive for the betterment of dear old Jacksonville.

If elected alderman from the Second ward, I, as a member of the council, will do my utmost to keep the lights burning all night. I would rather have a light burning in front of my house, than to have a policeman on watch.

I am also in favor of an efficient fire department. Men who are familiar with the streets, numbers in the blocks, and also the locations of the water plugs. I have known instances in past years where fires have become total losses owing to the fact that the firemen were not familiar with the above mentioned details.

I am also in favor of uniformed police. A stranger when coming to a city, naturally looks to policemen for information. But how may our police be distinguished from an ordinary citizen? A uniformed police force is a boost for any city.

I will not burden you at this writing any longer, but at a later date will express my views in regard to the light plant and the water situation.

Yours for a better city.

Chas. De Silva.

Editor Journal:

Last week I was asked by a Journal representative if I had any statement to make in regard to how I stood on the "No Salary" plan. I stated to him that I had no proposition to make at that time, but since all the candidates have now filed for the primary and some have made their statements, I have read of none of them offering any suggestions as to what they would do in regard to putting our city back on a sound basis.

I would make this suggestion, that either your paper or the leaders of the "no salary, no politics" plan, call a public meeting and invite all candidates to be present and let them state where they stand in regard to a better government for the city of Jacksonville.

Yours respectfully,

Edward Lonergan.

ENJOYING LIFE AT ST. CLOUD

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taylor of Chapin are making an extended stay at St. Cloud, Fla. This is not their first winter in the south and so they are meeting with a number of friends at St. Cloud. In a recent letter Mr. Taylor said: "Mrs. Taylor and I are now located at 421 Pennsylvania avenue, and do light house-keeping. Six states are represented in this house, so you will know what a large gathering of people from the north St. Cloud is now entertaining."

"Oranges here sell at 20c a dozen, and large grape fruit at 20 to 30c a dozen. Eggs bring 40c. Native loin steak sells for 30c and other meat prices are in accord. It has been a little cool for this part of the country, but nevertheless warm enough to permit children to go barefooted."

"I met here the other day W. C. Ledford of Jacksonville. This town is developing rapidly and has a fine future. Just to 'keep my hand in' I cried a sale a few days ago, selling two lots and a Jersey cow together with some household articles. It was charity work because the owner was a poor woman who needed all the funds she could raise. The sale took place on New York avenue, with a large crowd present, and one of the men told me I was talking to people from 35 different states."

The President's Speech.

dreamed that it would be a Europe of settled peace and of just hope.

European People Confident.
And now, these ideals have wrought this new magic that all the peoples of Europe are buoyed up and confident in the spirit of hope, because they believe that we are at the eve of a new age in the world when nations will understand one another when nations will support one another in every just cause when nations will unite and every physical strength to see that the right shall prevail.

If America were at this juncture to fail the world, what would come of it. I do not mean any disrespect to any other great people when I say that America is the hope of the world; and if she does not justify that hope, the results are unthinkable. Men will be thrown back upon the bitterness of despair. All nations will be set up as hostile camps again; the men at the peace conference will go home with their heads up on their breast knowing that they have failed—for they were bidden not to come home from there until they did something more than sign a treaty of peace.

Suppose we sign the treaty of peace and that it is the most satisfactory treaty of peace that the confounding elements of the modern world will afford and go home and think about our labor; we will know that we have left written upon historic table at Versailles, upon which Vergennes and Benjamin Franklin wrote their names, nothing but a modern scrap of paper; no nations united to defend it, no great forces combined to make it good, no assurance given to the downtrodden and fearful people of the world that they shall be safe. Any man who thinks that America will take part in giving the world any such rebuff and disappointment as that does not know America.

Will Make Men Free.
I invite him to test the sentiments of the nation. We set this up to make men free and we did not confine our conception and purpose to America and now we will make men free. If we did not do that the fame of America would be gone and all her powers would be dissipated. She then would have to keep her power for those narrow, selfish, provincial purposes which seem so dear to some minds that have no sweep beyond the nearest horizon. I should welcome no sweeter challenge than that. I have fighting blood in me and it is sometimes a delight to let it have scope, but if it is a challenge on this occasion it will be an indulgence. Think of the picture, think of the utter blackness that would fall on the world. America has failed! America made a little essay at generosity and then withdrew. America said: 'We are your friends,' but it was only for today, not for tomorrow. America said: 'Here is our power to vindicate right,' and then the next day said: 'Let right take care of itself and we will take care of ourselves.'

America said: 'We set up a light to lead men along the paths of liberty, but we have lowered it. It is intended only to light our own path. We set up a great ideal of liberty and then we said: 'Liberty is a thing that you must win for yourself. Do not call upon us and thing of the world that we would leave.'

Do you realize how many new nations are going to be set up in the presence of old and powerful nations in Europe and left there, if left by us without a disinterested friend? Do you believe in the Polish cause as I do? Are you going to set up Poland, immature, inexperienced, as yet unorganized, and leave her with a circle of armies around her? Do you believe in the aspiration of the Czechoslovaks and the Jugoslavs as I do? Do you know how many powers would be quick to pounce upon them if there were not the guarantees of the world behind their liberty.

Touches Suffering Armenia.
Have you thought of the suffering of Armenians. You poured your money to help succor the Armenians who had suffered, now set your strength so that they never suffer again. The arrangements of the present peace cannot stand a generation unless they are guaranteed by the united forces of the civilized world. And if we do not guarantee them, cannot you see the picture? Your hearts have instructed you where the burden of this war fell. It did not fall upon the national treasuries. It did not fall upon the instruments of administration. It did not fall upon the resources of the nations. It fell upon the victim's homes everywhere, where women were toiling in hope that their men would come back.

When I think of the homes upon which dual despair would settle where this great hope is disappointed, I should wish for my part to have had America play any part whatever in this attempt to emancipate the world. But I talk as if there were any question. I have no more doubt of the verdict of America is this matter than I have come back to report progress and I do not believe that the progress is going to stop short of the goal. The nations of the world have set their heads now to do great things and they are not going to slacken their purpose. And when I speak of the nations of the world I do not speak of the governments of the world. I speak of the peoples who constitute the nations of the world. They are in the saddle and they are going to sea to it that if their present governments do not do their will some other governments shall and the secret is out and the present governments know it.

All United As One.
There is a great deal of harm only to be got out of common knowledge. There is a great deal of sympathy to be got out of living in the same atmosphere and except for the differences of languages, which puzzled my American ear very sadly, I could have believed I was at home in France or in Italy or in England when I was on the streets, when I was in the presence of crowds, when I was in great halls, where men were gathered together, irrespective of class. I did not feel quite as much at home there as I do here, but I felt that now at any rate after this storm of war had cleared the air, men were seeing eye to eye everywhere and that these were the kind of folks who would understand what the kind of folks at home would understand and that they were thinking the same things.

I feel about you as I am reminded of a story of that excellent witness and good artist, Oliver Herford, who one day sitting at luncheon at his club was slapped vigorously on the back by a man whom he did not know very well.

He said: 'Oliver old boy how are you?' He looked at him rather coldly. He said: 'I don't know your name. I don't know your face, but your manners are very familiar.' And I must say that your manners are very familiar, and let me add, very delightful. It is a great comfort for one thing to realize that you all understand the language I am speaking. A friend of mine said he talked thru an interpreter was like guessing the compound fracture of the channel of communication the idea is the same, that it gets registered and it gets registered in responsive hearts and receptive purposes.

Speaks For America.
I have come back for a strenuous attempt to transact business for a little while in America, but I have really come back to say to you, in all seriousness and honesty, that I have been trying my best to speak your thoughts.

When I sample myself, I think I find that I am a typical American and if I sample deep enough, and get down to what is probably the true stuff of a man, then I have hope that it is a part of the stuff that is like the other fellows at home.

And, therefore probing deep in my heart, and trying to see the thing that are right without regard to the things that may be debated as expedient I feel that I am interpreting the purpose and thought of America and in loving America I find I have joined the great majority of my fellowmen throughout the world.

Take Care! "Flu" Is Coming Back!

Doctors say the best protection against "flu" is plenty of rest, nutritious food, active bowels and frequent use of a good antiseptic as a mouth wash, gargle or nasal douche.

Your druggist can supply you with an antiseptic that is harmless to human tissue, non-poisonous, yet is a powerful germicide. It is called Ma-oz Antiseptic. It is cheap, a 25 cent bottle makes nearly two gallons of very best antiseptic liquid, 50 cent and $1.00 packages are in proportion.

Follow the doctor's advice. Be sure it goes freely and often into your mouth, throat and nose.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers—No pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

PEACE PREVAILS

Paris, Feb. 24.—A special dispatch received from Basle by Havas today says: 'Peace calm prevails in Munich and that order had been assured by the proletariat of all shades. Tomorrow a congress of the federation which under the auspices of the central council is to form a new government purely of Socialists will meet. The dispatch adds that the general strike ended this afternoon and that all the workmen will resume work tomorrow. However, suspend the funeral of Kurt Eisner.'

CEREMONIAL SESSION HELD BY DOKAYS

One of Most Successful in History of Order—Three Great Days for Pythianism.

The Knights of Pythias brought their three day session to a close last night with a D. O. K. K. ceremonial. This session, like all other features of the three days, was very successful, largely because of the war Pythian activities have not been up to normal the past year, but there was certainly no lack of enthusiasm for the events of the three days' session and the comment of many yesterday and last night was that they had never seen so much of enthusiasm. The work was put on with a finish that called for the approval of the new and old members of the lodges. The committee on arrangements had certainly planned well and nothing was forgotten which would in any way contribute to the success of the whole.

Mention is made elsewhere of the Sunday church services. In the afternoon there was a large gathering at Castle hall when Private Parrish, Canadian soldier, gave a very interesting talk on his war experiences. He had been overseas in the thick of the fight and had some thing worth while to tell. Dr. Carl Yeck sang two solos acceptably, with John Kearns accompanying on the violin and Miss Hazel Claus at the piano. Miss Hilma Franz sang with ability "When the Blue Star Turns to Gold," and several readings were given with special excellence by Miss Bernice Wood. Afterwards the refreshment committee served ice cream and cake. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent.

Ceremonial Session.
Yesterday afternoon there was work and last night the D. O. K. K. held away. A fine supper was served at 6 o'clock, under the direction of James H. Hall, A. R. Taylor, C. J. Baker, L. O. Vaughn and Edward Tendich. Then the work was put on for a large class. As a feature of the evening's entertainment Mr. Carthy's Arabs gave a drill. It was the first time the men had appeared in one of these drills for two years, but they "came back" in a way which proved conclusively that they had forgotten none of their maneuvers. Particular interest attached to the "Sepulcher of Sin" and those present were sure they had never seen a finer presentation of this bit of drama. Ralph Bracwell as Tulphie and Frank L. Dunlap as Victim called for special praise. Others in the cast were: Mahedi—L. B. Turner. Imps—E. A. Rohman and Crum Cleary. Royal Vizier—Walter Williams. Saruk—W. R. Miller. Mr. Williams and Mr. Miller both belong to El Medit temple, Georgia, and came down especially to take part and they added quite largely to the success of the whole.

List of Candidates.
There were visitors present from Roodhouse, Manchester and Beardstown, and the hall was filled, the ceremony lasting until nearly midnight. The list of candidates included Samuel Green, Roland Kiel, Samuel Freedman, Robert Clayton, Wilbert J. Hauck, Edward Litter, George Kuck, J. E. Bradfield, C. L. Cannon, Alfred Smith, John Gloor, C. H. Sweby, Otis A. Ervin, Harold J. Johnson, LeRoy Craig, Mason Rowe, Howard B. Patillo, Tom Calley, John Davis, Fred Jackson, J. C. Lorton, R. T. Burdette, E. D. Thompson and R. H. Filson, Roodhouse, H. O. Wimberly, Chapin; J. H. Dugan, G. G. Rehman, George T. Saunders, Beardstown.

POLISH PREMIER OFFERS RESIGNATION

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, the Polish premier offered his resignation yesterday to General Pilsudski the chief of state, who declined to accept it, says a Havas despatch from Warsaw under Sunday's date. General Pilsudski asked Premier Paderewski to continue his functions. The Warsaw diet the dispatch adds continued its discussion of Paderewski's statement of Feb. 20. Mr. Grabski in the name of the Populist Party expressed confidence in Paderewski. He advocated a close alliance with the allies, and a strong army.

M. Stalinski, a radical also speaking for the Populist party seconded the demand for a strong army and asked for agrarian reforms.

M. Whitos, a moderate Populist favored an alliance with the entente and affirmed his confidence in Paderewski.

ADD SOCIETY
Miss Duncan's Engagement Announced.
At a breakfast given Monday morning at Peacock Inn the engagement of Miss Ruth Duncan of this city and Mr. Philip Lehenbauer of Champaign was made known. Sixteen young women were the guests at this social event which Mrs. Thomas E. Jenkinson and Mrs. Harold Duncan were the hostesses. The place cards were of unique design and revealed quickly to the guests that the company was in honor of a bride-to-be. An electric fountain formed the table center piece and the other decorations with flowers and ferns were very effective.

Miss Duncan who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Duncan of Mt. Sterling is especially well known in the musical circles of Jacksonville having been for several years a member of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music. She is an organist of great ability in addition to having musical talent, along other lines and altogether a young woman of great personal worth. Mr. Lehenbauer is equally well known in his home city of Champaign where is a member of the faculty of the University of Illinois. Although the engagement announcement came as a surprise to nearly all of the friends of Miss Duncan and Mr. Lehenbauer their congratulations are of the most hearty kind.

The company yesterday included Mrs. R. Y. Duncan, Mrs. M. L. Test, Mrs. H. G. Van Deventer, Mrs. Thomas Jenkinson and Mrs. Harold Duncan, Mt. Sterling, Miss Margaret Egan of Chapin.

SIDE WALK TALK BEFORE COUNCIL

Only One Bid For Construct Work Received In Answer Advertisement.

Monday's council session was even more brief than usual. There were no reports from departments. About the only business under consideration was the opening of bids for the laying of sidewalks on certain streets in accordance with recent advertisement.

The only bid was that of Hoffman, who offered to do work at prices ranging from 16 to 18 cents per square foot. The difference in estimated price was made because of larger expense on some streets for haulage materials and also for grading. The bids are higher than private contracts because the contractor must figure on a rather long period of carrying the account and the interest cost is a consideration.

Simeon Fernandes was present and asked some questions about the contract. He said that he was the low bidder at the last letting but had not gone ahead with the work because the city was unwilling to stand the cost of a test suit in court. Mr. Fernandes entered a complaint because it is handling a contract with the city with payment every 60 days for coal used at the south pumping station, and said he now has a bill against the city for 60 months.

Referring to the concrete walk on streets mentioned, Mayor Rogers said that it would be up to the contractor to whom the bid was let and if any other contractor did the work for the abutting properties it would be a matter of settlement between contractor. The city has no interest in the matter other than to see that the walks are put down.

Special emphasis is now being laid by the council on the construction of these walks because a great many property owners have complied with the previous order and these walks are needed to connect up the improvements already made. The council adjourned at 11 o'clock.

KEEP YOUNG

People with bad backs and weak kidneys are apt to feel old at sixty five. Many old folks say Doan's Kidney Pills help them keep young. Here's a Jacksonville case:

Mrs. Mary J. Wyatt, 1025 Beechley Ave., gave the following account of her experience in 1915: "I have used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and I know from my good experience with them I am safe in recommending them to all people to use for kidney trouble. The trouble I had was rheumatic twinges and disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills did good work for me and I know they are the best kidney remedy."

On July 17, 1917, Mrs. Wyatt said: "During the past two years Doan's Kidney Pills have done fine work whenever I have had need to use them. They always relieve the rheumatic twinges, strengthen my kidneys and give me new energy."

AN ATTACK OF INFLUENZA OFFEN LEAVES KIDNEYS IN WEAKENED CONDITION

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of influenza which has visited so many homes.

The symptoms of this disease are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition. Almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular medium and large size bottles, for sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention Jacksonville Daily Journal.

ALL ABOUT THE WORK ONE AT HOSTESS HOUSE

Miss Margaret K. Moore Writes in Interesting Vein from Camp Funston After Experience of Several Months.

For several months past Miss Margaret K. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ensley-Moore, has been in the service at the Y. M. C. A. hostess house at Camp Funston, Kans. This camp is located 131 miles west of Kansas City on the Union Pacific, four miles from Ft. Riley. Miss Moore's training has been of a kind to especially fit her for the work in which she has been patriotically engaged. Camp Funston is one of the largest of our cantonments. The following letter from her gives a clear insight into hostess house activities and will be read with a great deal of interest.

eatables brought from home; the most prominent feature of the picture is the smile on the soldier boy's face as the fried chicken is brought out.

All sorts of emergencies have arisen we never knew just what might be expected of us next. Sometimes it was a woman or a child who became suddenly ill, and had to have emergency treatment till we could get a doctor and an ambulance. Two or three times we have been asked to furnish a private room for a wedding, and have hastily decorated our little office with whatever might be available in the way of flowers and plants, and we of the staff have acted as witnesses. After the ceremony was over, the cafeteria director served ice cream and cake to the wedding party, to make it seem a little more like a home wedding. Even yet we have emergency calls. Only a few days ago a woman was brought here, who had been called by telegram because her husband was sick, and who found when she reached here that he had already died. She was brought here for us to care for till arrangements could be made for her return home.

The tenth division which was ready to be sent overseas when the armistice was signed, has been discharged, but there are still a great many men here in the camp. Aside from the organizations necessary for the care and guarding of the camp, there are men sent here from other camps for discharge, and overseas men. We see a great many good service stripes now, and many of the wound stripes. There is here in Funston a convalescent hospital where the less seriously wounded men are taken, instead of being sent to the base hospital at Riley. Most of them are able to be up and about, and we see many of them here at the Hostess House. It is in fact chiefly for these men that visitors come here now. Some of them have very little to say, while others tell interesting stories of their experiences overseas. One boy came here looking for mail which he had ordered sent in our care; he told me that he had not received one word of any kind from his people or from any one else in this country since the 24th of last June. He had been wounded at about that date, and had been moved from one place to another, and apparently lost track of, so far as his mail was concerned. He said he would be here for several days, and asked me to look after any mail that came. The next day his brother and the brother's wife came in and asked me if I would try to locate the boy for them. They had decided to come and meet him, instead of writing. I telephoned for the boy to come over; he came expecting to find a letter, and was very much pleased to find the brother here. The brother was in uniform, wearing a silver stripe, for six months service; the one from overseas had not even heard that he was in the army. Another day I witnessed a meeting between two boys who had served together on the Mexican border before this war; they had been separated then, and met here again, one wearing three silver stripes and the other three gold ones, besides two wound stripes. The boy of the silver stripes was most dejected because he had not been able to get across in all that time, and was most envious of the gold stripes his friend was wearing. The overseas boy insisted that there was nothing to be envious of; he said the other one didn't know how lucky he had been to escape all the discomforts of life in the trenches. I left them still quarreling good naturedly over which was the lucky one.

Some of the boys seem restless and discontented, but the most

MILLIONAIRE BANKER VISITS JACKSONVILLE

Jacksonville people who had the pleasure of meeting David R. Forgan, Chicago banker, Sunday found in him "the simplicity of greatness." That phrase is not too strong to apply to a man who has achieved from a humble beginning so much of financial and business success. Mr. Forgan is a multi-millionaire, a power in the financial life in the second city of the United States but is democratic and approachable. In his address at the Congregational church Sunday night he handled a difficult subject with a deftness of touch that made it at once understandable and interesting. The study of the country's financial system was reviewed with frequent flashes of wit and play of words which revealed the humor of the speaker.

While in Jacksonville Mr. Forgan who has been a friend of H. M. Camps for a number of years was a guest at the Camps home. Mr. Forgan served thru one period as trustee of Illinois College and then was at least a yearly visitor in Jacksonville.

of them are still able to get some amusement out of life. I heard three of them ordering breakfast in the cafeteria the other morning, while I was eating my own. They were making the most of the opportunity to talk a few minutes with the girl who took their orders at the counter. All three ordered fried eggs; when she asked how they wanted them the first one said "done on one side." The next one said "done on the other side," while the third one asked that his should be done one on one side and one on the other. When the plates came, the first and the third one took theirs without comment, but the second one looked at his critically and said that wasn't his plate. The girl asked why not, and he said because he ordered his done on the other side. He seemed able to eat them as they were, however. There is just one thing more that I should like to speak of, and that is the very great degree of courtesy and consideration with which we have always been treated by the military men from General Wood down to the enlisted men. General and Mrs. Wood were here only a few days ago for tea, and the general spoke most appreciatively of the value of the work that the Hostess House has done. They have all seemed to realize that we are here to co-operate with them, and to do what we could to help in the work, and have done everything possible to make our work easy for us.

Sincerely yours,
Margaret K. Moore.

METHODISTS CONFER ABOUT COLLEGES

Committee in Chicago Mapped Out Program for all Educational Institutions of the Church—Money for Endowment and Buildings Proposed.

Rev. E. L. Fletcher, superintendent of Jacksonville district of the M. E. church, has returned from Chicago where he has been in attendance at the sessions of the state commission of 28 appointed sometime since to consider all the educational institutions of the Methodist church outside of Chicago. The session was held at the auditorium of the Methodist Book Concern and was of a very important character. A subcommittee had thoroughly canvassed the situation and had considered various written pledges and the finding was summarized in the statement below. Special local interest attaches to the fact that the Woman's College here is not to be disturbed by any intimation of removal, but requirement is made as to increased endowment and enlargement of buildings. Illinois Wesleyan is to remain at Bloomington if certain financial conditions are met.

The summary referred to is as follows:

The Wesley Foundation at Champaign—This work is to be continued and the asking of $500,000 is endorsed and to be raised in the Centenary Movement.

The Boy's School at Omara—The Trustees of this school are to be permitted to enter into a contract with Prof. Bittenger, to conduct this school as a Boy's military school for a period of five years. If at any time this does not succeed it is to be closed and the property turned into some charitable work.

The Illinois Woman's College—This college was commended and it will be permitted to remain in Jacksonville and continue its most excellent work on condition that its endowment be raised to $1,000,000 and that $250,000 be raised for new buildings.

Hedding College, Abington—A very sharp controversy arose over this institution. The final decision was, that an endowment of at least $750,000 must be raised at once and 100,000 spent in new buildings. The subscriptions and money to be placed in the hands of a Trust Company, and in event of the sum not being raised by July 1st, 1923, the College shall be united with the Illinois Wesleyan and removed to the site of the Illinois Wesleyan. Meanwhile $5,000 must be raised each year extra for the running expenses of the College for the coming five years.

McKendree College, Lebanon—This school is to remain at Lebanon, Ill., on condition that $500,000 be raised at once for endowment and that the city of Lebanon and the Southern Illinois Conference show a more vital interest in this institution. In case of failure to meet these conditions this College will probably be united with the Wesleyan.

Illinois Wesleyan, Bloomington—Large delegations were present both from Bloomington and Springfield in the interests of their respective claims.

It was finally decided that the Board of Trustees should be reorganized, and the Law School should become an integral part of the University.

That a new site must be provided by the City of Bloomington and the County of McLean and $500,000 be raised at once by the city and county for the needed new buildings. The ground must be graded, walks made, sewers and water mains laid representing about $100,000. Also a Conference campaign to raise $1,000,000 will soon be put on. The City of Bloomington must guarantee the above in the next thirty days. If it is not so guaranteed the offer of Springfield should be considered. But it would cost more to establish the institution at Springfield, the amount for buildings, equipment and endowment, in addition to the site, should be from $1,750,000 to $2,000,000 of new money. Of this amount Springfield and the county of Sangamon should furnish 1,000,000 and in addition the $50,000 maintenance fund. This will leave the requirement made of Springfield in case the University is moved to this city.

AN ERROR IN FIGURES

In the statement of the joint committee on water supply published Saturday and Sunday a typographical error was made referring to the capacity of the proposed reservoir. The plans call for a reservoir with a capacity of 420,000,000, which taken in connection with the 35,000,000 gallons in Morgan Lake, would make a total of 455,000,000 gallons.

MRS. TREADWAY DIED FROM SEVERE BURNS

Well Known Resident of Arenzville Met With Serious Accident Sunday Which Resulted in Death—Threw Oil Into Fire and Caused Explosion.

Mrs. Henry Treadway, a prominent resident of Arenzville, died early Monday morning at her home in that city as the result of injuries sustained Sunday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock. At the hour indicated Mrs. Treadway went to the basement of her home to attend to the furnace fire. It is supposed that she attempted to throw kerosene on the fire, for the members of the family heard an explosion in the basement and hurried to ascertain the cause.

The burning oil was thrown all over the unfortunate woman and her clothing instantly ignited. She ran from the building, and when the flames were finally extinguished her entire body was seriously burned. She remained in a conscious condition until 10 o'clock Sunday night, but from that time until death came at 7 o'clock Monday morning, she was unconscious. Dr. J. M. Swope was the attending physician and did all that was possible to relieve the terrible suffering.

The deceased, who was fifty five years of age, had spent practically all of her life in Arenzville. She is survived by her husband, Henry Treadway; one son, Dr. Walter Treadway of Washington, D. C.; four daughters, Mrs. Edgar Thompson of Virginia, Mrs. Inez Fisher of Hagner's Station, Mrs. Dode Postlewaite and Miss Blanche Treadway at home. One son, Edward Treadway, passed away several years ago. Mrs. Treadway was a member of the Arenzville Presbyterian church, in which organization she was a faithful and active member. Her going will be a distinct loss to the church and to the community in which she lived. The members of the family have the sincere sympathy of everyone in their great bereavement.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, awaiting the arrival of Dr. Walter Treadway, now enroute from Washington.

CHILD KILLED BY CAR AT QUINCY.

J. B. White left at the Journal office a clipping from a Quincy newspaper telling of the death of Hazel Weineke, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weineke. The child was on her way home when she was run down and instantly killed by a street car. As the child was watching one street car she walked squarely in front of another and the body was almost ground to pieces.

DAVID E. FORGAN ON RECONSTRUCTION

Noted Financier Discusses Finance and Reconstruction—Tells Audience We Must Have Faith in the Future.

A well pleased audience that completely filled the Congregational church listened Sunday evening to David E. Forgan of Chicago on Finance and Reconstruction. It was especially gratifying to hear one so well versed in finance discuss that all important subject. He said when he agreed to come he didn't consult his calendar and wasn't aware that he was to speak Sunday evening and in a church though he was pleased to return to Jacksonville which he occasionally visited with pleasure when a trustee of Illinois College. His subject was dry, however, so there could be no criticism on that point.

A short outline of his address is given.

Religion is the bulwark of government and society and a well grounded faith in our Creator is all essential.

An atheist died and when the matter of funeral came to be discussed his friends decided to have the usual gathering but to omit all religious services. Accordingly the friends assembled and when all was quiet one arose and said those desiring might come forward and view the remains. One after another passed by the casket till a moment as he gazed on the features of the departed remarked:

"Poor Dick. He's all dressed up and has no place to go."

Every country has three lines of defense: Wisdom. Might. Money.

When wisdom or diplomacy fails the country must resort to might, but might is helpless without money. In the recent great conflict our government made every effort to keep us out of war by diplomacy but failed and then when it became necessary our brave boys with eager feet pressed to the battle and the Germans as eagerly retreated. We whipped the Germans, of course we had some help from the allies in doing it, but without means our brave boys could not have done the work.

When the war was begun it was regarded as a brief conflict. Germany confidently expected it to be all over in six months and didn't even increase her taxes for she expected the enemy to pay for the war. The largest single loan ever made by the United States was $150,000,000 at the beginning of the Spanish war. The largest single loan ever made by Great Britain was 300,000,000 at the end of the Boer war. Our country was involved in the great world war less than two years yet our while outlay is well toward twenty billions. It goes without saying that this can never be paid in cash nor is it so expected; it is in credit.

World's Business is Credit.

Wars are so financed. Many hardly realize what credit means but it is the very life of business. Nearly 95 per cent of the world's business is done on credit and in many great transactions 99 per cent is so done. Credit is an element like water and we well say we float a loan. Credit is a sea on which many ships sail as long as there is room for them. So when a nation wants to make a great loan the question is, is there room on the financial sea for its vessel? If its internal affairs are sound and its government wise there is room.

A man comes to me in my office and wants to borrow $10,000. I agree but hand him no money. I give a slip to the discount clerk he enters it on the books, places the sum, less the discount, to the credit of the man and he in turn gives his checks against it and so checks pass all over the city. Next morning we gather up all the checks we have against other banks and go to the clearing house. There we are credited with the checks we bring in and are debited with the checks other banks have brought in against us and we give or receive the difference as the case may be.

A man starts a bank in Jacksonville with $100,000 capital stock represented by that much money in the safe. The first day loans of $10,000 each are made to forty men and no other transactions. At night the balance sheet will show assets, cash, as in the morning, $100,000 and bills received, $400,000 and liabilities; stock, $100,000 and deposits $400,000, but no more cash in the bank than in the morning.

Credit must be well founded and redeemable. Investments should be most carefully scrutinized. Banks must have suitable reserves. When the government wants five billions it simply prints the notes but behind them is the whole credit of the nation. The actual cash needed is very small. Your country has subscribed for large sums in liberty bonds and while I don't know the facts I am satisfied the deposits in your banks have not materially decreased.

Federal Bank System.

One great reason why all has gone so well financially in the late war is owing to federal reserve bank system. I am not a Democrat but will give the Democrats credit for putting it over on the fact is they took their plan and the whole system from the Republican monetary commission and enacted it into legislation. Had it not been for that we should have been stranded financially. Under the old system our finances were like a lot of men with a bucket of water standing by a fire but not pouring on any water; now they have the water and pour it on.

Before this war when a cloud would arise the country banks would at once call for their deposits in the financial centers and when that went too far banks had to close and a panic was the result. Now we all stand together and are safe. We have the greatest amount of gold in the world, three billion, in our federal reserve banks and so we can expand and go to the limit. Some inflation is necessary and unavoidable but not much.

Should Have Faith in Future

The great war lasted more than four years but it didn't stop for lack of cash. We have yet much to do but should have courage and faith to believe all will come out right. The government needs much income but should be careful about taxing business too heavily else it will kill the goose that lays the golden egg. We need patience to adjust ourselves to conditions. I don't believe that the government should be in a hurry to pay off the national debt. The war has been for the future as well as the present and the future should help pay. We must loyally support the government. I believe in long time bonds.

We who were too old to bear arms did our part in the late war in other ways. The women of the land did nobly too and should have full credit for all they did in every line as nurses. Red Cross and Salvation Army workers and every line at home. We have given largely to many enterprises and our motives have not been sordid. We live in momentous times and should be trustful, courageous and loyal and all will be well.

Responding to a question, German should be permitted to carry on her industries in such a way that she will be able to pay her debts to other nations. I think her debts so far are mostly domestic and these she may and possibly will repudiate or prolong at a low rate of interest. But she should not be admitted to a league of nations till she shows some genuine repentance for what she has done and should not be permitted at any time to manufacture arms or anything which may be used offensively against another nation.

I think the trouble in Russia will finally burn itself out and stable conditions will be restored there without the help of other nations.

Preparing for Lambing Time

The proper time to begin preparing for lambs is five months or more before they are born. If the ewes are properly cared for during the pregnant period a "whole lot" will be contributed toward a successful lambing period.

One very necessary factor in a successful lambing attitude on the part of the person who is to take care of the ewes and lambs, an attitude which is the product of two motives. One of these motives is the desire to make profit out of the sheep business; the other is that great big kindly feeling which prompts man to do his very best for the helpless, new born creatures. A Shropshire breeder in this state once said to me, "I turn all of the weak lambs over to my wife; she never loses one. You would think they were her children." Enough said. He explained her success.

What about the profit motive? Whoever takes care of the ewes and lambs must realize that in a sense, lambing time is harvest time. The opportunity for profit is greatly increased if all the crop is saved. Let anyone who does not fully comprehend this, shelter little figures. Contrast the returns from two flocks of 100 ewes each, one flock having 80 lambs, the other 125 lambs. It will be easy to realize a good profit on the 100 having 125 lambs, but very difficult to get satisfactory returns from the 100 having only 80 lambs. While it would seem that this is perfectly obvious, I am sorry to say that many flock owners do not act so. The man who says, "I am going to handle my flock so that I shall be able to save all the lambs born alive," will be the fellow who will make good money.

Besides having the ewes in proper condition, there are other things which go to make up preparedness, such as quarters, shelter and supplies. Ewes about to lamb (period of pregnancy 146 days) should be kept away from other classes of live stock, especially hogs. Horses and cattle may injure the ewes and hogs greedily devour young lambs. A hungry old sow may injure the ewes and destroy a lamb ten days old.

Comfortable, well-bedded pens should be provided. The woolly coats of new-born lambs are wet and hence a poor protection against the cold. There should be no holes or cracks for the lambs to creep thru, for when they first get to their feet and begin wobbling about they are very skillful in finding their way thru such openings. Sunshine is so good for little lambs that whenever possible their quarters should be located where the maximum amount of it can be had.

Twelve to sixteen square feet of space should be allotted to each ewe. She and her lambs will need this much, and a number of portable pens 4 ft. x 4 ft. should be in readiness for use. These will more than pay for their cost in handling ewes with twins because it is very necessary to keep the lambs from drifting apart for the first few hours after they are born. These pens are also valuable in handling ewes that are disinclined to own their lambs. Four to six pens will be adequate for a flock of fifty ewes.

A few simple supplies should be on hand when the lambing begins. These are Epsom salts and castor oil to be used as physic, the salts for old sheep and the oil for lambs; a metal syringe provided with a large nozzle and also a small one suitable for giving injections to young lambs; tincture of iodine to be used on swollen udders and on navel cords to prevent "navel ill"; Swan bill nipples for feeding young lambs, and a good disinfectant. These supplies should be laid in ahead of the time that they may be needed because the proper moment to treat a sheep effectively is just as soon as symptoms of abnormal conditions are noticed.—W. C. Coffey.

DESIRABLE SOUVENIR

Yesterday at the store of A. & Andre a Journal reporter was shown a number of certificates handsomely framed and testifying to the fact that the school mentioned in the document was a regular member of the Junior Red Cross league. Each of the schools in the city had one, that is the four regular ward schools, the David Prince and high school, the Morton and Independence. In addition there were several to be given to schools in the county.

A NOBLE APPEAL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman have received from the east an article written by Mr. Herman's niece, Miss Blanche Ullman Pabst, on war Cripples Self Supporting. The article was written for the New York Times and was copied by the Jacksonville Times. The young writer calls attention to the fact that many soldiers may not have lost a limb or have one that is disabled and yet may be a cripple, afflicted with tuberculosis, deafness, shell shock, blindness, diabetes, frost bite and many kinds of physical impairment and the great problem now confronting the nation is the care of these worthy heroes. They don't want to become beggars nor soldiers' home medicants but rather self-supporting. At 311 Fourth avenue, New York is an institution known as the Red Cross institute for Disabled Men, founded thru the munificence of Jeremiah Milbank and soldiers are admitted to it. The teachers are cripples and are an inspiration to the pupils. The period of rehabilitation for a disabled soldier is trying and the people of the land they fought to save cannot do too much for them.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The tax books are now in the collector's office and is a judgment against all parties mentioned therein.

Parties paying on personal tax only, should pay the same promptly and avoid trouble and expense in collecting same. The judgment reads as follows: In case any person named in said books shall neglect or refuse to pay their personal tax you shall levy the same by distress and sale of goods and chattels of such person. Parties paying on real estate should bring their old tax receipts to save time and avoid mistakes. If paying through the banks, leave your old receipts with your bank as soon as possible.

TALK ON JAPAN

Sunday evening Miss Olive Blunt talked in a very interesting manner to the young people of the Christian church on Japan, telling many interesting things regarding that wonderful land. She also sang a song in the strange language of the country and it sounded quite musical. She showed some very interesting pictures and articles she had brought from Japan and three were carefully arranged and displayed by Miss Fannie Grassley, the leader of the meeting. The evening church audience also had a chance to see the interesting exhibit.

BOARD OF EDUCATION SIGNS WITH ARCHITECT

Contract Signed at Special Meeting of Board Monday Evening—May Make Some Changes in Original Plans—Minor Matters Discussed.

The board of education met in special session last evening to consider the contract with the architect of the proposed new high school building and possible changes in the plans. The contract was signed and the plans considered and some minor matters arranged.

The proceedings: The board met in called session with all present except Member Black, President Lippincott in the chair.

The secretary read the call which was to consider contract with the architect for the proposed new high school building and to consider some proposed changes. The secretary had all papers and plans ready for all inspection and affairs in suitable condition to be intelligently discussed.

Mr. Royer, the architect, being present, stated the objections to signing the copy of the contract desired by the board. The secretary produced the original specifications and six corrections which had been mutually agreed upon. By an oversight Mr. Royer's attention had not been directed to certain changes and clauses which existed in the original document and when his attention was called to it he at once signed with the board and the seal of the board was placed on the contract, and on motion of the secretary it was ordered that a warrant be drawn in favor of Mr. Royer for the first payment due him according to the original program.

Supt. Perrin called attention to the tournament which is to be held here Friday and Saturday of this week and it was decided that there would be no school sessions in the David Prince building either of those days and none in any public schools in the city Saturday.

The building and grounds committee called attention to the condition of the open air school building regarding the way the janitor had to get coal for the upstairs stoves and ashes out of the basement. He has to climb over the coal pile in the basement and get out of the window which is very inconvenient and hazardous. Either a small coal shed on the outside or an outside entrance to the basement seemed advisable and the matter was referred to the buildings and grounds committee with power to act.

Changes in Plans Deferred The original drawings for the proposed new high school building were then brought out by the secretary and the matter of some changes in the interior and front door entrance were mentioned. Mr. Royer said he was ready to comply with the wishes of the board as soon as they were definitely ascertained.

Supt. Perrin suggested before anything be done that cognizance of a certain important matter be taken. The federal government was appropriating several million dollars for the purpose of co-operating in certain lines of education, notably agricultural, industrial, economic, domestic science and home economics but to get the benefit of the money certain conditions must be complied with. Rooms and apparatus must be provided and teachers with suitable qualifications. The details he was unable to state but thought the board might get wholly in addition to its present income, $2500 a year or possibly more. This week the National Education association is meeting in Chicago and he hoped to go up Tuesday night and confer with some who could tell him the necessary requirements in the matter. It might be no changes in present plans for rooms would be necessary and some might be called for and as it was a matter of so much importance it seemed wise to investigate the matter fully now rather than to wait till the new building is done when some costly changes might be called for. The board was of the same opinion and definite action on any changes in the plans or further action on them was postponed till after the next regular meeting next Monday night at which time Supt. Perrin will try to have his report ready.

Architect Ready to Confer.

Mr. Royer, the architect, said he was ready to go into details and plans for the new building. He wanted all manner of suggestions from the board in order that the best building might be secured. His desire was to get busy on details and specifications as soon as possible for there would be considerable work connected with the matter. The changes suggested would not be likely to increase the size of the building nor the cost materially. He wouldn't be able to meet with the board next Monday night but all desired changes and modifications could be sent him by the secretary and he would at once proceed with them and return the plans and details just as soon as possible.

A great deal of work would be necessary before the plans and specifications could be prepared and submitted to contractors for bids and wanted to get at it as soon as possible. For the satisfaction of the board he read a letter from authorities in Kenosha, Wis., where a school-house has recently been let. It is 147 by 133 on the ground, two stories and basement. Stone window trimmings and good and substantial everywhere and the cost was about 17 cents a cubic foot of contents.

The secretary produced the plans and schedule of dimensions of the proposed building here and found the ground plan covered 144 by 187 meet, almost the same as the other and the Jacksonville building was estimated at twenty cents a cubic foot. This gave the board considerable satisfaction. All in all Mr. Royer saw at present no prospect of either increase or decrease in the cost of material.

PYTHIANS NUMEROUS AT CHURCH SERVICE

Heard Strong Plea for Everyday Friendliness By Lieut. Marbach—K. of P. Tribute to Flag—Music Feature of Service.

As a part of the three day session Pythians Sunday morning attended a service at State Street Presbyterian church and listened to a sermon by Lieut. W. H. Marbach. Members of Favorite Lodge No. 376 and Jacksonville Lodge No. 162 met at Castle Hall and marched to the church. The representation was said to be the largest that ever attended a church service.

A special musical program had been arranged by Mrs. William Barr Brown and the exercises at the morning hour were of very impressive kind. The quartet included Mrs. A. Wehl, Miss Gladys Andre, Hackett, Wilder and Lindley Williamson, with Miss Ruth Duncan at the organ. Mrs. Carl E. Robinson sang a solo with artistic ability. As a part of the program the entire company of Pythians joined in a salute to the flag. The emblem was held aloft by L. T. Potter and James I. Graham in very eloquent way delivered the tribute to the flag.

Lieut. Marbach spoke in the simplest and choicest of language dwelling upon the thought that Christ alone is worth of interpreting life. The speaker said that he had been much impressed with the flag service of the order and suggested that it was especially fitting since this service was held in the presence of many who had loved ones who may perhaps be ever absent.

"I have been impressed in past months with the character of our army," the minister said and continued "with the men it was a service of knighthood. They fought for ideals. It was like a crusade and men went into the conflict to win for the principles that they had espoused. I am glad that you are here today as men who love the flag. There is much in this idea of knighthood for it carries us into the realms of the ideal and the spiritual. I am glad too that in your order this service is a usual thing; that you as young men recognize the church as an organization, that you recognize that man cannot live by bread alone; that you recognize that it was God who has implanted the spirit of knighthood."

"In these days of tumults, riots and rumblings we are glad for this organization that teaches that the only method of life, that is worth while is that founded on friendship. In Persia they say there are no banks because one man cannot trust another. There is no friendship there—nothing of the spirit of knighthood, nothing of the spirit of Damon and Pythias which your order exalts. But where Christianity goes the climate changes in these things and confidence and friendship come. We think in terms of friendship when we look at that flag for it guarantees to every man the right to life, liberty and happiness. Military men are not those to interpret life. We admire Caesar, Napoleon and leaders of their kind but we know that these men are not the right interpreters of life. The following of their maxims—of their ideals—does not lead to brotherly love or to that friendship which means sacrifice. Just as men and organizations come to interpret life in terms of friendship, so does life become really worth while. Knowledge puffs up but love builds up, and love is the greatest thing in the world."

The service closed with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and a brief benediction.

HOPE TO BEGIN WORK ON PLANT SOON

Eli Bridge Company Anxious to "See Dirt Begin to Fly."

Just when work will begin on the construction of the Eli Bridge Co. plant here is uncertain but in a letter to Henry Friech the company indicates its intention to begin work just as soon as the spring and early summer rush is over. Mr. Sullivan, president of the company in his letter says: "We are all anxious to see the dirt begin to fly for this plant, as we are badly crippled for room. However, construction work cannot well start until we get some of the pressing work thru." The company manufactures Ferris wheels among other products and these are especially in demand early in the season for use in entertainment parks and with similar enterprises. Mr. Sullivan also recently wrote to Mayor Rodgers with reference to securing use of a switch adjoining the site of the Wabash railroad where the company is to erect its plant on the lots the Chamber of Commerce purchased from H. M. Capps with the fund made by popular subscription.

WILL TALK OVER WATER FINANCE PLAN

Meeting Will Be Held This Morning—May Seek Popular Loan of $125,000.

More than a year ago fifty citizens of Jacksonville signed a note for $6,000 which made it possible to proceed with the preliminary surveys with reference to water supply and the sinking of test holes and wells. A meeting of all the guarantors has been called for 8:30 o'clock this morning at the city hall to consider a plan for financing the water project. The meeting has been called at the request of the joint committee on water supply.

Mayor Rodgers said last night that the committee believes that it has in readiness a feasible plan for the securing of the $125,000 by popular loan. This sum of money will be required for the purchase of 380 acres of land for reservoir purposes. It is the plan to use this property as security for the loan, citizens to be given notes or bonds bearing 6% interest and maturing in periods from one to twenty years. The committee believes that when the public understands the details that there will be little trouble in securing purchases for the bonds and notes, as the security will be of an ample kind and in securing purchasers for the notes will make possible the completion of the project, in which the public is so vitally interested.
